Monthly price performance since inception ( 1/12/2000 )

Risk

Overall the Fund's conservative approach and well diversified, multi-asset portfolio results in a relatively low risk profile compared to an index of shares (such as the FTSE 100).

	Best return over :				Worst return over :				Volatility/risk (annual since inception)
	1 year	3 years	5 years	10 years	1 year	3 years	5 years	10 years
Heritage Managed Portfolio Fund	24.8%	55.6%	85.2%	140.9%	-19.5%	-11.3%	5.5%	63.6%	7.4%

Asset allocation

The equity content consists predominantly of profitable companies on attractive valuations as well as some international & specialist funds including private equity.

The preference shares and convertibles consist of zero dividend preference shares and bonds that have an option to convert into ordinary shares.

The property exposure is through funds and REITs that invest directly in commercial property as well as property company shares.

The corporate bond holdings consist of investment grade and higher yield bonds and include both fixed and floating rate securities.

Cash is held to manage risk and to provide liquidity.

Commentary

The Managed Portfolio Fund seeks to generate attractive long-term investment returns at a lower risk than that associated with pure equity market investment through active management of a well diversified multi-asset portfolio.

April was another weak month for global equity markets, weighed down by continuing concerns over the Russian invasion of Ukraine and rising inflation and the Fund was down by 0.96% this month and by 3.24% for the year-to-date.

A large number of our holdings have been negatively impacted by the general market weakness this month, although there were a few notable exceptions – Rathbones was up 15% on the back of a take-over bid for fellow wealth manager Brewin Dolphin at a large premium and our Schroders non-voting shares were up 22% on news that they are to be enfranchised. We received the take-over proceeds from our holdings in Clinigen and Air Partner in April but are not in a rush to reinvest the funds and will look to selectively add to existing favoured holdings and continue to look for new opportunities over the summer months.

It continues to be a tough environment for bonds generally, with rising interest rates and inflation hurting investment grade bond prices and general risk aversion weighing on higher yielding bonds. Having said that, our largest fixed interest holding, the REA 9% preference shares are up over 10% this year, as the company has enjoyed stronger trading and been able to strengthen its balance sheet.

Whilst the near term outlook remains uncertain, we believe that our portfolio of investments is well positioned to generate attractive returns for long-term investors, whilst our relatively defensive positioning should provide some protection against the risks of any short term continued market weakness.

Investors should be aware that past results are not a guide to future performance and that the value of investments can fall as well as rise.
